Suicide at Pineville,

Boone Logan, Jr., of Pineville, committed suicide at that place Sunday afternoon by taking strichnine. It is reported that he went behind the counter in one of the drug stores and swallowed the poison and then drawing a pistol defied anyone to come near him until it had time to take effect.

He soon fell unconscious and lived until about ten o'clock that night. A telegram was received by Assistant Mine Inspector Perry V. Cole, of this city, that evening asking him to send his oxygen pulmometer, with the hope of administering artificial respiration but he did not regain consciousness after taking the poison. He was the son of D. B. Logan, former Sheriff of Bell county and no motive is known for the deed.

SAD ACCIDENT

John Cooper, a young man living on Indian Creek of this county, was struck by lightning last Friday afternoon and killed suddenly. Two of his younger brothers were with him at the time and were shocked although both recovered.

Mr. Cooper, with his younger brothers, were gathering sarvises and he had placed a rail up against the tree and was standing upon it breaking off the limbs and throwing them down to his younger brothers when the bolt came and struck him passing through his body killing him instantly.

He was a prominent school teacher in this county and had a wide acquaintance and a large number of friends, who were shocked at the sad accident.

For several months past he has been our correspondent from Indian Creek, and we knew him to be a fine young man. To his bereaved parents and relatives we extend our sincere sympathy.

Exit Roller Skates

After repealing the ordinance several weeks ago, which prohibited skating on the streets, the City Council again passed an ordinance prohibiting it last Friday night and this ordinance goes into effect today. It was found that at the rate some of the youngsters were going that it was only a matter of time until some serious accident would result and consequently the old law goes into effect.

The Advocate has been opposed to this past time for some time because it is dangerous to the pedestrians and because some of the skaters absolutely ignored the rights of anyone who was not on roller skates. On account of the little girls we regret that their amusement is past and had the boys used the same precautions there would have probably been no agitation against it.

What Barbourville needs is a place for youngfolks to skate and enjoy themselves without endangering the lives of people walking along the streets. In many of the cities and towns the city owns and controls public play grounds. Why not Barbourville? At a comparative small outlay a nice play ground could be purchased and within the city limits. We have the money and owe nothing, so why cannot we be progressive and have the things that the children want? In recent months we have heard a great deal of progression, so let us progress along this line.

Her Recitation.

"Put some spirit into it, child," shouted the father, who is an actor. "Make some gestures. What is she reciting, anyhow?" he demanded of his wife. "She won't need any gestures with this," retorted the latter. "She is reciting the multiplication table."

AND IT SO HAPPENED

Some two years ago a suit was brought against F. D. Sampson in the United States Court by the R. O. Campbell Coal Co., of Atlanta, Georgia, in which it was alleged that Judge Sampson was indebted to that company in the sum of $49,000.00.

This suit and the purpose of bringing it at that time by lawyers for this corporation was discussed very extensively both in the newspapers and on the stump in the campaign then pending in this district for the election of a Circuit Judge. It was charged by Judge Sampson and his friends that the suit was brought against him for political effect. The case was never tried. The public generally understand that, and still there are occasional questions asked as to the outcome of this lawsuit. It appears that there are some people who are not yet informed of the fact that the suit has been dismissed, the plaintiff company paying all the costs. It happened just as the Advocate told its readers it would happen, that the suit was born in that campaign and kept alive for a purpose and that its usefulness would be lived out at the close of the campaign.

We were right in this prediction and we now publish this fact for general information.

Health Exhibit Car

At Frankfort, Ky., June 5, 1913, the meeting of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission, final arrangements were made for taking over the Health Exhibit Car, which was run to a great many towns in the State a year ago. The car is now being altered, and new exhibit is being installed. In the course of ten days the car will start on another trip through Kentucky. The Commission hopes to keep the car on the road, at least, two years, and reach, if possible, all the available points in the State.

A committee of three was appointed to meet at the Capitol next Monday, and engage one or more representatives to travel with the car and explain the exhibit.

J. S. Miller for County Judge

To THE VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF KNOX COUNTY:—

I am a candidate for the office of County Judge of Knox County, subject to the action of the Progressive Party at Primary Election August 2, 1913.

I was born, raised, and have always lived in this county. I was elected and served one term in this capacity and desire to thank all the citizens of Knox County for that honor conferred on me. I submit my record as County Judge to you for your careful investigation and consideration. I promise if nominated and elected to make you a much better officer this time than before. I feel sure I can do this because I learned a great many things pertaining to the office of County Judge in four years that I did not know and some of them are very important. I will fill this office if elected with honor to the county and credit to myself.

I solicit the support of every man, woman and child in the Grand Old County of Knox.

Yours truly,

J. S. MILLER.

Keep 10,000 Fleeces Fifty Years.

Ten thousand fleeces, which have been stored for 50 years in a big Lincolnshire granary with slanting ashpoles to prevent them from touching the brickwork, have been purchased by T. W. Mays & Sons of Bourne, Lincolnshire. The fleeces were the property of the late Sam Goosman, a North Lincolnshire agriculturist, who died last autumn. They were in splendid condition.—London Mail.

Arsenic That We Eat.

It is known that arsenic exists normally in the tissues of the human body without doing harm. It is a constituent of peas, almonds and beans. Fresh lettuce, though rich in water compared with almonds and beans, reveals scarcely less arsenic. The foodstuffs poorest in arsenic are the banana, chestnut and leek.—Harper's Weekly.

NOTICE

Change in Roadway

On the 26th day of June, 1913, there will be a petition filed for a change in the county road on Little Indian Creek, and described as follows:—

Beginning on a beech and sycamore near Loe Carter's house, thence running with said Carter's fence and the old County road to or near the ford of the Creek.

JAMES NOE.

BASEBALL GAME

An extraordinary game of baseball was played in this city last Saturday between the town team and the team from Warren, in which the latter team was shut out without a hit or run and none of them reached first base. McDonald pitched one of the best games of his career and was given errorless support. This is the first time that this feat has ever been accomplished in this city.

CARD

TO THE VOTERS OF KNOX COUNTY:— I am a candidate for the office of County Attorney subject to the action of the Democratic voters as expressed in the Primary Election Aug. 2, 1913.

In announcing for public office it is customary to do so through the county newspapers.

In doing this I shall state a few facts in regard to my life so as to give you an idea touching my qualifications for the office of County Attorney. I was reared on a farm and have always lived in this county. I received my early training in the Public Schools; later, I attended school at Barbourville, Williamsburg and State College at Lexington. I taught in the Public Schools of the County for several years, studied law and was admitted to the bar. I have been an ardent and enthusiastic student of history, law and literature for the last twelve years and have been deeply interested in the questions pertaining to the needs of the people of Knox County.

I am seeking this office because I feel that I am qualified for the place and able to give the county an efficient administration.

If elected I promise to honestly and faithfully discharge the duties of the office and will at all times work for the upholding of Knox County.

Faithfully yours,

THOS. E. SASSER.

NOTICE!

Two Men Discuss the Present Schoolbook Law.

BOTH AGREE IT IS UNJUST.

To Have the County Authorities Select the Children's Schoolbooks Often Means a Hardship For the Parents and a Loss of Valuable Time to the Pupil.

"Say, Bill, somebody told me the county is to select the children's schoolbooks for next year."

"Yep, that's what the fellers round the courthouse say. It's a new law again."

"No; I reckon they've gone back to the one we had a good while ago. Well, all I can say is I'm mighty sorry."

"Why? Don't you think our folks can select good schoolbooks?"

"Course they can, but that ain't the point I'm drivin' at. Look here, you're leavin' a farm same as I am, ain't you?"

"Yep."

"Well, suppose you buy your boy an' girl a set of books for school next fall, an' then 'bout the Christmas hollidays you go over into the Big Bull Skin neighborhood just across the county line."

"By George, I hadn't thought about that side of the question!"

"Course you didn't, 'cause your kids are just little fellers, an' they ain't been to school long. But you won't until you have a whole raft of 'em. Like I've got, an' then you'll understand what a big thing it can be. I remember mighty well one time when I moved from one county into another. The move wasn't more than five miles, either, an' the new books I had to buy for my four children cost me $9."

"That's mighty tough, an' I don't wonder you're kickin' about it."

"If the cost of the books was all of it it wouldn't be so bad. I've got a heap bigger kick comin' than just the cost of the books."

"What is it?"

"What hurts me is that sometimes a child'll lose a lot of valuable time. There's my oldest boy. He's goin' on sixteen, an' he's through the eighth grade an' ready for the high school. He'd been through almost two years of high school work if he hadn't lost time changin' from one school to another."

The man was silent for a moment before he continued sadly: "The boy's big for his age, an' now he's goin' to work because he feels he is too big an' old to go through high school. The changin' round means that my boy won't take a high school education like he planned to. Just the other day I saw in a paper where the average pay for the man who had only gone through the eight grades was almost $400 less than that of the fellow who had had a high school course. If that's so my boy'll stand to lose almost $8,000 in hard money in the next twenty years of his life. He'll lose enough through the changes in his school to buy him a first class farm."

The men were silent again for a few moments. At length one spoke up: "Kinder strange how all of us fellers talk an' plan how things ought to be run at Washington," he said. "We talk of who should be president an' all that. An' we won't take the trouble to try to straighten out a schoolbook law in Kentucky that means money out of our pockets every time we move an' money out of our children's pockets for the rest of their natural lives."

"Say, let's all agree to watch the schools just a little bit, an' let's get busy with our next legislature an' see if us fellers that stand between the plow handles an' feed folks can't have things fixed to suit our pocketbooks an' to make it better for our children."

The New Schoolbook Law.

A strong effort is expected to be made at the next session of the general assembly to amend the textbook law, possibly restoring the system of state selection. The present law provides that each county shall choose its own textbooks through a commission composed of a member of the county board, a member of the board of examiners and a county school principal. The old contract will expire next year, and as no selections have ever been made by county commissions those in favor of state selections are desirous of securing legislative action restoring it before the county commissions have a chance to act. Under the old state system the county judges, county superintendents and county attorneys voted on the textbooks and a majority ruled. Some form of legislation will be considered by the Kentucky Educational Association at its meeting in Louisville, April 30, and probably a draft of the measure favored by a majority will be prepared for submission to the general assembly. Editorial Pineville Sun.

WE ARE INTENSELY INTERESTED IN THE ELECTION OF A PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES. BUT WE ARE NOT INTERESTED IN THE ELECTION OF THE TRUSTEE WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE COMFORT AND EDUCATION OF OUR CHILDREN.

LET US NOT USE THE MICROSCOPE ON OUR TROUBLES. TO MAGNIFY AND SEEK OUT ALL THE DETAILS OF OUR TROUBLES IS TO BECOME MORE AND MORE MISERABLE.

HOW TO ECONOMIZE.

The keeping of lemons in the household is a problem to many. Some advocate dropping them in water and renewing the water once a week; but the plan of packing them, stem end down in sand, just as one does eggs, keeping them from touching each other, is the best one yet. They will keep for months, provided they are not softening when put into the sand. A supply of lemons is a great convenience, and even the waste of two or three is quite an item in the course of many buyings.

Can You Doubt It?

When the Proof Can Be so Easily Investigated.

When so many grateful citizens of this state testify to benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your door. Read what a resident of Williamsburg, says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony?

L. L. Pence, Attorney, Williamsburg, Ky., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills worthy of the highest praise. We have used them for years and gladly confirm the endorsement I gave them several years ago. I had kidney trouble for a number of years and being given a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, I used them. They made a marked improvement. I can say that they are good for weak back and kidneys." If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills the same that Mr. Pence had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50-cents all stores. Simplify Life.
I do believe in simplicity. It is astonishing as well as sad, how many trivial affairs even the wisest man thinks he must attend to in a day; how singular an affair he thinks he must omit. When the mathematician would solve a difficult problem he first frees the equation of all incumbrances and reduces it to its simplest terms. So simplify the problem of life, distinguish the necessary and the real.—From Thoreau "Letters."
